

I believe everyone deserves to be happy at work.

Luckily for us, happy employees are good for business.

Responsible Monsters improves employee morale and efficiency in healthcare IT departments through the integrated systems of Process Improvement, Engagement, and Talent Development. I collaborate with your teams to analyze your unique needs and create tailored solutions that are indefinitely sustainable by your leaders and staff. Potential benefits include decreased burnout, higher customer satisfaction, and lower project costs.

Our industry is facing mounting pressures to “do more with less,” and your people are the only investment with the potential for unlimited return. I have spent nearly two decades supporting Epic teams, I have built these systems successfully, and now I want to share my successes with you. Together we can tackle your hardest problems, achieve outcomes sooner, and grow your people into a happier and more effective team.
